阅读填表命题规律

任务型阅读题型大多采用填表形式。该题型往往对答案的字数有所限制，空格里通常要求填入 1 个最恰当的单词，当然有时也会要求考生填入不超过 3 个或 4 个单词，因此，同学们在答题时，不仅要读懂文章，知道在哪里寻找答案，还要注意“言简意赅、切中要害”，用规定的字数答出所需要点，以确保答案在拼写、人称、单复数、时态等方面“无懈可击”。由于此题型要求高、难度大，往往成为中考英语的拉分题。若想在中考中获得理想的成绩，对该题型务必做到读懂文章，掌握主旨，仔细推敲，寻找关键词，学会组织语言写出适当的词汇。

阅读填表题型命题方式

夯基·必备基础知识梳理

表格挖空处是根据原文中的关键词句来设置的，因而答案往往是与原文中出现的词语或意思相近的词语，通常情况下有四种设题方式：

1. 标题归纳题：一般位于表格的上栏或左栏,考生可根据表格下栏或右栏的内容及文章段落中主题句和文章大意进行分析,加以概括总结.

2. 细节理解题：利用表格中所给的信息定位至原文,仔细辨别,寻找答案.

3. 推理判断题：对比表格内容与原文内容的差异,根据语境和逻辑推理得出答案.

4. 同义转换题：对比表格内容与原文内容的差异,根据语法结构进行词形的转换,

即：名词⇌动词、名词⇌形容词、主动⇌被动、肯定⇌否定

★ 标题归纳文章标题的归纳,一要关注文章的核心及高频词汇,二要根据主题句提炼主题.

1. 阅读文章时,要注意文中反复出现或强调的信息,因而要在文中寻找覆盖全文的核心词汇或句子,或寻找与文章大部分内容相关的信息.

2. 寻找文章的主题句是解答标题归纳题的核心,主题句一般位于文章首末段或分散于各个段落中,需要考生加以总结提炼,得出答案.

★细节理解此类题目需要采用关键信息定位法,根据题干中的关键信息定位到文章中的具体语句.

★同义替换根据题干中的关键信息定位到文章中的具体语句,分析原文句子并结合题干句子结构,确定空格处在句中所承担的句子成分,根据语法结构和语义进行适当转换.

★ 推理判断此类题目要求考生对文中某一细节或写作意图给出合理判断或推理,运用逻辑推理能力得出蕴含在文中没有明确说出的事实或暗示的含义.

阅读填表题型解题技巧

1.阅读文章时,要学会理清文章的写作思路和篇章结构,这通常是很重要的设题线索.

(1)特别注意表格前的小标题,它通常是文章的主题.读懂了表格标题有助于理解短文及表格的大意.

(2)分析表格的项目内容,根据所提供的表格内容提示理清表格的设计原理.

(3)学会查读.要带着问题有意识地在文章中寻找与答案相关的关键词语,或概括、归纳出关键词语.

2.做题时要充分利用解题的微技能.

(1)词形转换能力

任务型阅读中好多答案都需要通过词形转换来完成.如：原文中用 be surprised to do sth.,根据表格题目设计,转换为 It is surprising that....

(2)英英释义能力

任务型阅读中有些题目需要通过英英释义来解决.如：原文中用了 keep your attention,根据表格题目设计,要用 listen.

(3)逆向思维能力

所谓逆向思维,即从另一个角度来思考问题.如：原文中用了...and most people will stay away from an angry face.表格中的题目设计成：People don’t like the one with an angry face.

The teenage years are usually the most stressful years in a person’s life. As teens go through great changes in body, mind and so on, they are often easy to get angry and full of strong feelings. Teens of today face more challenges than before. Technological improvements and even climate change are bringing new changes and causing more trouble for teens to deal with.

One new challenge is about new technologies and ways of working, such as AI that will change the future jobs. The challenge for a teen today is preparing for an unknown future. In the past, a teen could prepare for only one career path and be quite certain to stay in the same area of work for a long time. The situation is different today as AI continues to take away jobs that depend on humans.Teens will have to meet this challenge by developing a sense of lifelong learning, being willing to learn skills that match real needs and keeping up with technology. Finally, teens will also have to prepare for career paths of more possibilities.

In addition, as the effects of climate change become more common in recent years, many teens around the world are in fear or anger. Disasters and the rise in sea levels have destroyed homes and taken away lives. Many people have been hurt by these terrible climatic events, and even if a teen has not suffered, he or she is often worried about what may happen in the future.

To manage the great challenges of the 21st century, teens should treat challenges as chances. To keep up with technological improvements, they should continue to learn new skills. As for dealing with the climate change, they can come together to think of new ways to accept changes and help create a more sustainable(可持续的)future.

Most people have the good fortune to be raised by caring parents, who give them not only their love but also their time spent in doing various things for them. However, many who love their parents have trouble finding the time to spend with them that they know they deserve(值得). Well, here are some ideas.

●A family meal

For those who live within less than an hour's travelling distance from their parents, a weekly get together around the dinner table is really not too much to ask. It can be at your place or theirs, or you can have other choices. Take the chance to chat about daily happenings, and repay just a little of the time they gladly spent on you. If they live really close by, you could even drop in on the way home from work at times.

●A weekly planned phone call

For those who live at a greater distance from their parents, there is no possibility of regular contact in person, but this does not mean an end to personal contact. Your parents will be glad to hear the sound of your voice, so plan to call them on the telephone at least once a week. If possible, choose a proper time when everyone is more likely to be at home. Your parents will be even happier if this could be a video call.

●E-mail, text and social networks

If your parents feel quite comfortable in the cyber world, well, spend some time with them in that location. Exchange e-mails, photos, and even Facebook friends with them. You don't have to share every detail of your life with them, just the bits you know they will have interest in.

●Ask for your parents' advice

Whatever problems you may be having, large or small, it's a safe bet that your parents have been through it all before. So talk to them and ask for their advice, and if they make the way clearer for you, it might just turn out to be the best few minutes you ever spent.

●Share relaxation time

That is, plan time together doing something you both enjoy. Women preparing for a shopping trip or to take in a film could easily do the same thing together with Mum. Sometimes fathers and sons could enjoy golf or fishing together. Going out for a meal can be a time for everyone to have fun, or you can get together for a weekend once or twice a year if distance separates you.

Though most parents do not expect to play a lead role in the lives of their adult children, their years of love and gladly-given time deserve a few thoughtful minutes in return. So spend time with your parents and make them closer to you.

Have you ever visited Longmen Grottoes(石窟)or Yungang Grottoes? Around 1, 800 years ago, Chinese artists made statues in mountains. Over the years, these statues have gone through earthquakes, floods and wars. Now in the 21st century, however, they are facing an even bigger problem: tourism. Too many tourists go to visit those grottoes every year and this certainly does harm to the grotto statues. How?

Over many centuries, these grotto statues slowly corrode(侵蚀)because of the acidic content (酸性物含量)of air, water and so on. But when they are open to the public, the corrosion process speeds up.

According to a study, the carbon dioxide that visitors breathe out has made the air more acidic. Also, visitors bring in microorganisms(微生物). Even their body heat can increase the grottoes' temperature.

Bad behaviour can cause harm to the grotto statues as well. Too many visitors touch the grotto statues and cause their surfaces to change colour.

When we visit the grottoes, we can often see a sign saying, "No Flash!" or "No Photos!" This is because the strong light can be bad for the statues, especially those with colour. The light can easily make them lose colour.

To protect those ancient cultural treasures, recently China has asked the workers who take care of those grottoes not to allow too many visitors to come every day. And to keep a balance between protecting relies and educating the public, some grotto sites have also created their own digital(数字的)museums.

Title: Grotto Statues Are in ___16___

How important is music? When they are asked this question, students and parents usually answer that music is nice, but not very important. It is often considered only as entertainment, but not the first choice for education. This opinion is shortsighted. In fact, music education is necessary and important for all students.

Music tells us who we are. Music reflects(反映)the creators' thinking and values, as well as the social environment it came from. For example, just as Mozart music represents a lifestyle, rock music represents a lifestyle too. The jazz influence that George Gershwin and other musicians introduced into their music is obviously American because it came from American musical traditions.

Music provides a kind of ability to know the world in a different way. Science explains how the sun rises and sets. Music explores the emotive(情感的)meanings. We need every possible way to discover and respond(回应)to our world because no one way can get it all.

Music is a form of thought, as powerful as science. It is a way we human beings "talk" to each other. Through the language we express our feelings, our discoveries, our ideas, our imagination and our hopes so that they can be shared with others. When we do not let our children receive good music education, we take away from them the meanings that music expresses. Science does not tell us what it means to be human. Music does.

So music education is much more important than people generally realize.

One day, when I wake up, I find myself the ruler of the world…

We would have half an hour of "keep fit" every day, away from the Internet. My theory is that almost all Internet fights would be solved if we were all forced to walk away from computers and do some exercise in fresh air. I think a lot of our anger comes from the fact that we're just not getting enough of it.

We must be kind to animals. Once a year, we would have a day completely devoted to animals; everybody would be allowed to have the day off and just spend their time with their dog, cat or mouse. Sometimes people are too shy to say that they love animals as much as they love humans. And I guess that I am as well. I wish I could talk about that more freely. I'm always happy when I meet other people who feel the same way, and devote their lives to taking in homeless cats and dogs, and raising money for animal charities.

Everybody would have a free Michelin-starred(米其林星级)dinner. We live in a world where we hear about these places a lot. It's considered as the pinnacle(巅峰)of experience to go and enjoy food there. But in fact, for almost 99 per cent of people in my city don't get the chance. It's very expensive and might be far away, so people just don't go. They might watch it on TV, but they never witness a two-Michelin-star restaurant for themselves. Since I come to power, everybody will get a free ticket and enjoy themselves in the restaurant.

All people would speak good English. I studied English—really badly—for nine years, in a school in south-east of China, I wasn't very hard-working, I just did it because I kind of had to. And I really feel sorry for that, because now I'm circled by business people speaking English all the time. So, when I come to power, all people would speak English well, and things will work out.

English learning	●My nine-year learning of English is a failure. I ___30___ later because I find it useful. ●Things will go well if we're all good at English.

Cars powered by gasoline(汽油)were sold for many years before cars that use electricity. Car companies are now making cars that are fully powered by electricity only. How do these electric cars measure up to(符合标准)traditional gasoline cars?

Electric and gasoline cars look similar on the outside. They have very different parts under their hoods(引擎盖), though. Electric cars have one main moving part: the motor. But gasoline cars have hundreds of parts, often requiring frequent maintenance(保养). Having fewer parts makes the electric car cheaper to maintain and less likely to have mechanical(机械的)problems.

Electric cars are energy efficient(高效的), also making them cheaper to operate. It
