Florence Nightingale（南丁格尔）was born in a rich family. When she was young she took lessons in music and drawing, and read great books. She also traveled a great deal with her mother and father.

As a child she felt that visiting sick people was both a duty and a pleasure. She enjoyed helping them. At last mind was made up. "I'm going to be a nurse," she decided.

"Nursing isn't the right work for a lady," her father told her.

"Then I will make it so, "she smiled. And she went to learn nursing in Germany and France. When she returned to England, Florence started a nursing home for home. During the Crimean War in 1854 she went with a group of thirty eight nurses to the front hospitals. What they saw there was terrible. Dirt and death were everywhere to be seen — and smelled. The officer there did not want any woman to tell him how to run a hospital, either. But the brave nurse went to work . Florence used her own money and some from friends to buy clothes, beds, medicine and food for the men. Her only pay was in smiles from the lips of dying soldiers. But they were more than enough for this kind woman.

After she returned to England, she was honored for her services by Queen Victoria. But Florence said that her work had just begun. She raised money to build the Nightingale Home for Nurses in London. She also wrote a book on public health, which was printed in several countries.

Florence Nightingale died at the age of ninety, still trying to serve others through her work as a nurse. Indeed, it is because of her that we honor nurses today.

56．When she was a child, Florence ____.

A．loved to travel very much　　B．knew what her duty in life was

C．loved to help sick people　　D．was most interested in music and drawing

57．What made Florence make up her mind to become a nurse?

A．Her father's support.　　B．Her desire to help the sick.

C．Her education in Germany and France．　D．Her knowledge from reading great books.

58．During the Crimean War in 1854, Florence served in the front hospital where ____.

A．she earned a little money　　B．work was very difficult

C．few soldiers died because of her work　　D．she didn't have enough food or clothes

59．Why was Florence honored by Queen Victoria?

A．She built the Nightingale Home for Nurses.

B．She wrote a book on public health.

C．She worked as a nurse all her life.

D．She did a great deal of work during the Crimean War.

60．The passage can best be described as ____.

A．the life story of a famous woman　　B．a description of the nursing work

C．an example of successful education　　D．the history of nursing in England

Every human being has unique(独一无二的)fingerprints on his finger skin and the finger-prints are unchangeable. Scientists and experts have proved the uniqueness of finger-prints and discovered that no exact similar pattern is passed on from parents to children, though nobody knows the reason.

A person's finger-prints do not change with growth and is not affected by superficial (表皮) injuries. Burns, cuts and other injuries to the outer part of the skin will be replaced in time by new one which has the same prints. It is only when the inner skin is injured that the prints will be destroyed. Some criminals (罪犯) make use of this fact to get rid of their own finger prints but this is a dangerous step to take.

Finger-prints can be made very easily with printer's ink. They can be recorded easily. With special methods identification(鉴 定) can be achieved successfully within a short time. So

It is difficult for nearly every family to teach their children to be responsible for housework, but with one of the following suggestions, you really can get your children to help at home.

If you give your children the impression that they can never do anything quite right, then they will regard themselves as unfit or unable persons. Unless children believe they can succeed, they will never become totally independent.

My daughter Larla's fifth-grade teacher made every child in her class feel special. When students receive less than a perfect test score she would point out what they had mastered and
