Passage A

Life has changed for millions of teenagers across the world who now make friends online.

When you use chat rooms, , MSN or ICQ, you are part of a virtual community(虚拟小区).

“I rarely talk with my parents or grandparents, 31 I talk a lot with my old friends on 31,” said Fox’s Shadow, the online nickname used by a school girl in China. “Eighty percent of my classmates use 32 school.”

32 is the biggest message service in China. More than four million people use it on Saturday nights, 33 to Tencent, the company which developed 33. And Fox’s Shadow might well have been one of them. “I usually 34 about 10 hours chatting online every week,” she said. “But I rarely talk with 35, especially boys or men.”

Even though she likes chatting, she is careful about making 36 with strangers online. “You don’t know 37 you’re talking to. You should 38 be careful about who you trust online.”

Many people would meet offline when they feel they have got to 39 someone very well. Fox’s Shadow once met one of her online friends 40. It was a girl who was a sports lover like 41 and they went to watch a basketball game together.

However, not all teenagers have been so 42. At the beginning of this year, an 18-year-old girl was robbed after meeting a friend she had found on 42. The criminal wasn’t caught 43 last month.

“I used to chat on 43, but I found that most people were talking nonsense(说废话),” a 16-year-old boy said. Now he spends little time chatting as he sees it 44 a waste of time and money. “If you are really addicted 45 it, sometimes you just can’t concentrate in class,” he said.

Passage A

It doesn't matter when or how much a person sleeps, but everyone needs some rest to stay alive. That's all doctors thought, until they heard about Al Herpin. Al Herpin, it was said, never slept. Could this be true? The doctors decided to see the strange man themselves.

Al Herpin was 90 years old when the doctors came to his home in New Jersey. They thought for sure that he got some sleep of some kind. So they stayed with him and watched every movement he made. But they were surprised. Though they watched him hour after hour and day after day, they never saw him sleeping. In fact, he did not even own a bed. He never needed one. The only rest Herpin sometimes got was sitting in a comfortable chair and reading newspapers. The doctors were puzzled by this strange continuous sleeplessness. They asked him many questions, hoping to find an answer. They found only one answer that might explain his condition. Herpin remembered some talk about his mother's having been injured several days before he was born. But that was all. Was this the real reason? Nobody was sure. Herpin died at the age of 94.

61. The main idea of this passage is that ▲.

- A. large numbers of people do not need sleep
- B. a person was found who actually didn't need any sleep
- C. everyone needs some sleep to stay alive
