五、阅读理解(10 题)

44. From now on, never spend your precious time thinking of reasons for your failures and shortcomings. Instead, realize that the seeds of success were planted within you when you were born. Only you have the power to make those seeds grow.

The seeds, and the power to grow them, are contained in the most awesome machine ever created: the human mind. Success is a choice and not a chance. You were born a winner. You were born rich. You can be a success only if you make the right choice.

You cannot be successful without first developing your self-esteem. Your level of self-esteem is always based on the degree of control that you are able to exercise over yourself, and thus over your life. People with low self-esteem are people who do not believe that they have any power, or responsibility for their lives. They are the perennial (长期存在的) victims and martyrs. They are leaves tossed (摇摆) by the winds of chance and blown about with any sudden change in the weather.

You can exercise control over your life only to the degree that you believe that you are responsible for everything that happens in your life. Failures think that everything happens by accident and by chance. Successful people realize that they are responsible.

Everything happens as a result of something. If we can identify the cause, we can control the effect. We are responsible for what we choose to think and believe. One generally rises to the level that one expects. We are responsible for setting our expectations. Our success is dependent upon our level of confidence.

If you associate with positive-thinking people, you are definitely going to achieve success. On the contrary, the opposite happens. We are responsible for finding, planting, and nurturing the seeds that contain future victory, born from setbacks.

In short, in all areas of your life, whether they are financial, physical, emotional, or spiritual, you are responsible. Once you recognize this, accept it, and firmly believe it, you are on the road to success

People with low self-esteem are compared to leaves because they_____ ()

- A.are ready to change their minds
- B.are easily affected by windy weather
- C.don't have the power to face their fate
- D.can't exercise control over themselves

45.Which could be the best title for the passage ()

- A.Anthropology
- B.The Progress of Human Beings
- C.The Civilizations
- D.The Study of Anthropologists

46.When you go to university to study for a degree,you have decided to study professionally,rather than as an amateur; so being a student is now your profession for at least the next four years. This involves a change of attitude in many ways.Although the process has been going on since you went to middle school,the biggest change is going to take place.Now,instead of taking several subjects,you have chosen one major subject because you find it interesting and worth exploring further.The choice is yours.You also have the goal of getting a degree.The degree and the stages you have to pass through to achieve it give you motivation,even though it may become weak from time to time,and not all parts of the course will be exciting; a sure way to lose interest is to do too little work.It is a law of diminishing returns—the less work you do, the less interest you will have and the more bored you will become. So, regular work is needed to keep up your interest as well as to keep pace with new work. Another change is in the relationship with teachers. This may well have changed during middle school and high school, but now the whole context is different. You are no longer forced to stay in school all day, and apart from your class time, you organize your own time and place for studying. You are there to study (an active process) rather than to be taught (passive). Your teachers may or may not urge you, but they do want you to share their interest in the subject and they want you to succeed. Some activities, like discussing and reading, are basic to studying. Make sure that you are doing these efficiently. Group discussions give you a chance to train yourself to speak and discuss more effectively. They will fail in their purpose if you keep silent—and if you start off this way, the harder it will become to get out of the situation of being the non-speaking member of the group. In the future you are almost certainly going to have to be good at speaking, so get into the way of talking about your subject now. This is actually more fun than sitting being silently miserable because you are not saying anything. Nobody will think what you say is foolish. Everyone will be thankful not to face awkward silence. When does a person start to study professionally?

- A. The time when he starts a profession.
- B. The time when he goes to university.
- C. The time when he knows how to study.
- D. The time when he goes to high school.

47. The author was traveling to Wuhu _____ ()

- A. in order to take a stop during the trip from Shanghai to Nanking
- B. in order to find some place similar to his hometown
- C. in order to visit his grandparents
- D. in order to find out changes in small cities

48. Passage Three

When we are not engaged in thinking about some definite problem, we usually spend about 95 percent of our time thinking about ourselves. Now, if we stop thinking about ourselves for a while and begin to think of other persons' good points, things will be quite different.

One of the most neglected virtues is appreciation. Somehow, we neglect to praise our son or daughter when he or she brings home a good report card, and we fail to encourage our children when they first succeed in baking a cake or building a birdhouse. Nothing pleases children more than this kind of parental interest and approval.

The next time you enjoy delicious food at a restaurant, send word to the cook
