What will the house of the future look like? Could it have gardens on its walls, or a pool with fish for dinner? Architects (建筑师) believe that they are all possibilities. The only thing for sure is that the houses will be as green as possible.

The tree house

The solar panel (表面) of the house collects sunlight during the day. The energy can be used to heat water, produce electricity, and the root (根) of the house (土壤) to control the home's temperature.

The lizard house

Like a lizard (蜥蜴), changing colour with the weather is the most important design of a lizard house. When it's in the bright sun, the cover of the house will turn dark to protect it from strong heat. During dark days, it turns white and takes in as much light and heat as possible to produce energy.

Meals at home

This design is perhaps as much about the future of food production as architecture (建筑). It has gardens on the outside wall of the house. People can plant tomatoes, carrots and green tea on them. So every day in the morning, you just need to walk outside and collect your meals.

Learning from the past

Looking to the future isn't the only way to be green. Sometimes, ancient techniques (古老的技术) can also help cut down energy use. For example, a chimney (烟囱) can be a useful air conditioner (空调) because it is easier for hot air to flow out from the chimney.

()20. A chimney can be a useful air conditioner in the future, but it caused _____ in the past.

- A. pollution (污染) B. accident C. noise D. energy

()21. We can heat water, produce electricity or create fresh air for the home _____.

- A. with the root of a leaf
B. with the energy from the sunlight
C. with the soil under the ground
D. with gardens on its walls

()22. What will happen to the cover of the lizard house when it's in the bright sun?

- A. It will take in light.
B. It will produce energy.
C. It will turn dark.
D. It will turn white.

()23. The passage seems to tell us that meals at home in the future _____.

- A. will be more delicious B. need more cooks

C. cost as much as possible D. will be greener
