24. (5分) One day, a young painter passed by a garden. He was deeply attracted (吸引) by the beautiful flowers in the garden. An old gardener was working there, but suddenly the young painter found the old gardener was blind.

"Wow, your flowers are so beautiful. Do you need a favour?" the young painter asked.

"No, thanks. I have planted flowers for years. And it's part of my life." the old gardener smiled.

"But you can't see the flowers. Why do you keep doing that?" said the young painter.

"Although I can't see them, I can touch them and smell the sweetness." the old gardener said, "And it's also for you."

"For me? But you don't know me," said the painter.

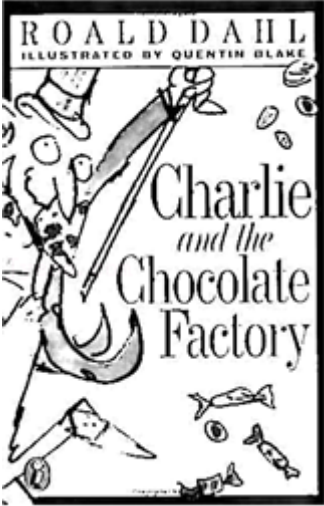

"Yes, I don't know you. But I know many people like you will stop here. The beauty of my flowers will make them happy," said the old gardener.

The two men had a wonderful conversation and shared the beauty together. The beauty is what we can see and what we can feel.

26. (10分) The lion dance holds a special place in the hearts of people in Guangdong Province. In history, it was a men's art only. However, the Nanxing Hexingtang Women's Lion Dance Team from Renhe Town, Guangzhou, broke the tradition with an all-girl team.

Coach Zhang saw the number of young lion dancers going down and he had a creative idea. He started to train girls in 2018. Girl dancers met some difficulties at first. However, Zhang and another coach, Coach Yu, didn't give up their idea to set up an all - girl lion dance team.They finally found girl dancers and trained them hard.

Their hard work paid off when the girls won their first big award (奖项) over the men's teams in 2021.They had more wins and this made them respected in the lion dance community.Today, the team has over 20 girls aged 7 to 19.

The team's success isn't just about winning awards, but about breaking bias (偏见) .More girls start to learn lion dance because of them.

Sometimes, traditions should not only be passed on but also improved in the new times.

27. (10分) There are different kinds of plants and animals on the earth and they get their food in different ways. Food chains are just used to show who eats what in a very simple way. Food Chains

Here are some examples of food chains.

•A garden food chain might look like this:

•Humans can also be part of a food chain.A farm food chain could look like this:

A food chain shows how plants and animals are connected with each other based on the foods they eat.Food chains are different depending on the habitat.A habitat is the scientific name for a place where animals and plants live.Habitats can be very different from each other, so a garden food chain would be very different from a farm food chain.

Food chains usually start with a green plant, such as grass or a tree.This is because plants can directly change sunlight into energy that they can use for themselves.These plants are called "producers", and they create or produce their own food.They use this food to grow leaves, flowers, fruit and seeds (种子).Food Chain Disruptions (中断)

When a food chain is broken, it may result in a bad situation.An example is over fishing.Over the years, humans have been catching too many fish at a quick speed leaving not enough to keep a healthy population.Because of this, other animals such as the turtles are endangered (濒危).So, humans should make sure our activities don't harm the ecosystem (生态系统).

根据语篇内容, 选择最佳选项。

(1) How does the passage explain "food chains"? _____

- A. By telling stories.
- B. By listing numbers.
- C. By giving examples.

(2) What may be put in _____ in the second food chain?

- A. chickens
- B. trees
- C. sunlight

(3) What does the underlined word "habitat" mean in Chinese? _____

- A. 习惯
- B. 栖息地
- C. 种群

(4) Why do food chains usually start with a green plant? _____

- A. Because plants can use sunlight to make their own energy.
- B. Because plants always have leaves, flowers, fruit and seeds.
- C. Because plants grow by themselves in a garden or on a farm.

(5) What is the purpose of the passage? _____

- A. To list all kinds of food for human beings.
- B. To explain why the turtles are endangered.
- C. To ask people to keep balance in the ecosystem.
