阅读下面短文，从短文后所给各题的四个选项(A、B、C 和 D)中，选出可以填入空白处的最佳选项，并在答题卡上将该项涂黑。

Animals can be of great fun, but it' s important to know 36 to be safe when you' re with them. Both indoor animals and outdoor animals need to be 37 kindly all the time. This means different things 38 on the animal and the situation. 39 a wild animal, being kind may mean staying far away 40 the animal doesn' t feel threatened and so you stay 41 .

Stepping outside can mean a world full of great animals to see — 42 squirrels in trees to birds in flight. In some parts of the world, kids 43 see slithery snakes, black bats, 44 even cool coyotes. And don' t forget raccoons, skunks, and other critters 45 come out in some places at night.

The rule in the great outdoors is simple: Don' t 46 or go near an animal. 47 some of these animals may look cool or even cute, leave them 48 . These animals aren' t like regular pets. They' re not 49 to being around people and may bite or attack if you come near them. They also might have rabies(狂犬病).

Don' t ever try to 50 a wild animal. Bird feeders are OK, but other animals, 51 they look hungry, shouldn' t ever be fed. When it comes to these animals, it' s better for everyone if you stay 52 and check them out at the zoo, on the Internet, on TV nature shows, or in books.

If a pet looks sick or is injured, stay far away. An animal that 53 loves to be petted may get very 54 and even bite when it is feeling ill. Tell an adult so he or she can get 55 for the animal.

Ramadan

Ramadan is one of the most important festivals for Muslims. The name of the festival comes from the Arabic month in which it is celebrated. Ramadan is celebrated in countries all over the world, especially in Africa and the Middle East. The time for celebrating Ramadan varies each year. People celebrate it in the ninth month of the Arabic lunar calendar. During Ramadan, people must not eat during the day: from when the sun comes up to when the sun goes down, people celebrating Ramadan will not eat or smoke. When the sun has gone down, however, the celebration begins. People often stay up all night eating, singing and dancing.

Easter

In late spring, many people around the world celebrate Easter. The festival is a celebration of spring and it is also a religious holiday. It is the time for Easter bunnies and egg hunts, and of course for eating lots of delicious foods. Easter is celebrated in late March or early April but the exact dates are different from year to year. People celebrate Easter in different ways: in some countries, the Easter Bunny—a big rabbit—will visit people and children will go on egg hunts, looking for eggs and candy that have been hidden by their parents. In other countries, Easter is a time for children to dress up like witches and go from door to door asking for candy---much like Halloween in the US. The Easter Bunny and the Easter Egg are popular symbols of the festival.

An ancient philosopher's wisdom can be compared in value to gold. Now "The Art of War" by the great thinker Sun Tzu has actually been printed on pure gold. There are 5,000 of these bookstores across China, costing 19,600 yuan each.

Known as the world's oldest book on military strategy(军事策略), it was originally written on bamboo strips(竹简). Sun Tzu lived in about 500 BC in the late Spring and Autumn Period. There is little information about Sun Tzu's real life.

But according to one story, the king asked Sun Tzu to give a demonstration of his way of training the army. Two groups of the king's concubines(妃子) played the soldiers and two of the king's favourites acted as commanders. Sun Tzu gave them orders, but they thought it was just a game and couldn't stop laughing. Sun Tzu said, "if the order is not clear it's my fault, but if the order is and soldiers don't obey, it's the commanders' fault." He then killed the two commanders, despite the king's protest. When Sun Tzu gave new orders, the concubines performed perfectly.

Sun Tzu's book became popular with leaders in Asia and later in the West. In 1782 a Frenchman named Amiot took the book to Europe. It is said that Napoleon used its principles while conquering Europe.

"The Art of War" is today used in business, sport, diplomacy(外交) and even relationships. Sun Tzu is possibly the most quoted(引用) Chinese in the world. One saying is, "If you know the enemy and know yourself, you need not fear the result of a hundred battles."

When I was in junior high school, I was really a bad boy. My history teacher —Mr Oven criticized me a lot because I was naughty in his class. By the end of the first semester, I' d had enough of his words and had decided that I would get my revenge on him.

The opportunity arose one morning when Mr. Oven was called to the office for a certain reason. While Mr. Oven left, my company Billy and I grabbed Mr. Oven' s lunch bag from under his desk. I opened his sandwich and placed a bug in between the two slices of bread. We put it back and closed it. To keep it in memory, Billy took photos of the whole process. We laughed for weeks over this.

Well, it all went south during Thanksgiving break. Billy' s Mother found the pictures in his room, and demanded that he should tell her where these pictures were from. Billy told his mother the whole story, and Mr. Oven was informed. Not only was I punished from school for two weeks, but also I was kicked off the football and basketball team. Before I could return to school, I had to turn in a 1000-word essay on what I did and why I did that. I really felt embarrassing every time I saw Mr. Oven in the hallway for the rest of the school year. I felt a little regret that Mr. Oven left our school the next year.
