Kids in British schools can do many sports. In most British schools, children do two hours or more every week, and they can choose from between 15 and 20 different sports. Here are several students talking about their school sports.

“I'm Craig Hopkins, and I'm in Year 11 at Park School. I love playing football and cricket. My is rowing. There is a big lake near my school, and we go there once a week to row. I'm in the school team or three times a year we row against teams from schools in other parts of the country."

"Hi, I'm Julia in Year 11 at River School. Though I'm not in any team, I can swim, play tennis at school. I love orienteering (越野识途比赛) most! In orienteering, you have to run and run—but you have to find where to go, too! You have a map and a compass, and you have to get to a place as fast as possible. It's even when it's raining!"

"I'm Brendan. I have played handball with Newcastle Tigers for nearly two years. It's a very enjoyable sport. In summer we played on the beach. This year I won the best player of the year award for my outstanding training attitude and hard work. I also joined a handball club at school and some other school sports teams."

16. What's the favorite sport of Craig?

- A. Rowing. B. Football. C. Orienteering. D. Handball.

17. Why could Brendan win the award?

- A. He won many competitions. B. He had a gift for handball playing.
C. He joined a professional handball club. D. He had a good training attitude and worked hard.

18. What do the listed students have in common?

- A. They come from the same school. B. They show no interest in team sports.
C. They are members of the school teams. D. They can choose many kinds of school sports.

I'm about to begin my fifth season of tree planting. Each year, around this time, I have mixed feelings about the job. After enjoying the warmth of my home for the winter months, I begin to miss the challenges of working in the bush.

In the early hours of the morning, we join our team—normally 6 to 12 men and women. Some of us will covered in suncream and dirt. Our trucks travel deep into the woodlands. When we step out of the trucks faced with a hillside that has just been logged and is covered with piles of logs and branches.

We quickly fill our bags with hundreds of tiny trees. Skilled tree-planters treat this more like a job, and competition fills the air. Once our bags are full, we jump from log to log. We fall many times pushing ourselves to go faster.

Daily pains get to us all. We feel uncomfortable in the heat, deal with cold at night and suffer from beautiful moments are always waiting. I remember, lying in my tent one night, listening to a pack of wolves howling in the distance. The season afterward I came across a bobcat that was sitting and calmly staring.

I've worked with a 62-year-old tree-planting legend called Grant—believed to have planted seven million trees in 40 years. Once he got caught in a rockslide and broke his back. It took him years to recover and came back stronger than ever. His passion for the job reminds me of what I love about it.

Tree planting is a laboratory of self-growth. You master your mind and face the worst and the best of nature. A new version of yourself awaits at the end of the experience. And after sleeping on a tent all night, learn never to take your bed for granted. So value what you have had and face the challenges in your life with passion.

19. Why does the author plant trees?

- A. To be well-known.
- B. To make a living.
- C. To challenge himself.
- D. To learn planting skills.

20. Which of the following could best describe Grant?

- A. Honest.
- B. Quiet.
- C. Humorous.
- D. Strong-willed.

21. What does the underlined part in the last paragraph probably mean?

- A. You need to be yourself.
- B. You can be more careful.
- C. You should be thankful for what you own.
- D. You should take your bed with you next time.

22. What is the best title for the text?

- A. Crying in the Bush
- B. Planting with Passion
- C. A Lesson from Grant
- D. A Mistake in the Wild

C

An electronic book—known as an e-book—is the text and art of a book published in digital form. So, even if the convenience of a digital book beats the benefits of reading a real book, that is, a book printed on paper, is it true?

A famous writer once wrote, “You can find magic wherever you look. Sit back and relax. All you need is a book.”

book!” Back then, of course, he meant a book printed on paper, but today that’s not the only way to read. People can choose to read a real book, or they can read an e-book on an ~~设备~~ reader device. Many people like reading e-books because they are convenient and easy to carry.

However, a real book can never be replaced. There is nothing better than the feel of a real book, from the weight of it in your hand to the satisfaction of turning each page. It’s part of the experience of reading. Going to a library or bookstore and turning the pages of a book ~~一样~~ is different. Scrolling on a device isn’t the same. And not every kind of book translates well to digital. Plus, e-books can require expensive devices to be charged ~~充电~~, as well as Internet access to download books. That’s not always possible or convenient. A printed book, however, doesn’t have to be connected to be enjoyed. What’s more, when reading a real book, you can feel a pleasure of the mind, which will help you get information and remember it more effectively. Reading also contributes towards developing the communication skills and unlock our imagination.

In 2022, sales of e-books in the US totaled about $ 1 billion, while real books sales hit $ 9.1 billion. A recent survey, 30% of Americans who read books chose e-books, while most still prefer real books. Besides, research shows that understanding improves when people read books in print, rather than in digital form.

23. Why do some people like reading e-books?

- A. E-books provide more understanding.
- B. E-books are convenient and easy to carry.
- C. E-books increase printing costs and paper use.
- D. E-books benefit people with reading difficulties.

24. What can we know from paragraph 3?

- A. People are too busy to read a real book.
- B. Children are into reading e-books nowadays.
- C. It is enjoyable to read real books in a library.
- D. All the real books can be translated well to digital.

25. What’s the purpose of listing numbers in the last paragraph?

- A. To stress the importance of reading books.
- B. To show the popularity of reading real books.
- C. To give examples of American best-selling books.
- D. To compare the differences of the two reading habits.

26. What’s the main idea of the text?

- A. Reading habits are changing

- B. Reading books is a good habit
- C. Real books benefit us in many ways
- D. Nothing compares to reading an e-book

There are millions of teenagers using social media every day. Although some people think social media is a positive thing, many are worried about the negative influences it can have on young people.

Many teenagers agree that social media helps them stay connected to their friends and make new friends around the world. More and more teenagers are willing to share their life and thoughts online. Thanks to advances in technology, how teenagers make friends and communicate with each other has changed greatly.

However, social media also has many disadvantages, one of which is that some parents believe social media makes it harder for families to spend time together. They say that things on the Net seem super appealing, but their kids can't take their eyes off the screen. As a result, teenagers pay no attention to the rest of the world.

Another serious problem is that social media makes cyberbullies (网络欺凌者) easier to reach their goals. A great many people have experienced cyberbullying—bullying that takes place online. So how can teenagers protect themselves if the cyberbullying has taken place? Gwen Taylor, an expert from a charity, which works to end online bullying, suggests, “The first thing to do is to tell a trusted adult about what is going on.” “If someone posts something that frightens you, you can report it to the social media platform. You'd better take a screenshot (屏幕截图) of the behavior because this will help you to report it and help others to help you,” says Taylor.

Perhaps the more effective way is to try to be a good digital citizen. How you act online is just as important as how others treat you. Good digital citizens use online spaces positively, which means treating everybody with kindness and respect. Respect other people's feelings and be kind (刻薄的). If you have shared something you shouldn't have, it's never too late to say sorry and fix the situation—such as taking it down. If you notice somebody is being cyberbullied, consider reporting it and getting in touch with the person being bullied badly to make sure he is OK,” Taylor advises.

27. What's the advantage of social media according to the passage?

- A. It helps teenagers make more friends.
- B. It enables teenagers to do more exercise.
- C. It makes teenagers focus on their schoolwork.
- D. It offers teenagers chances to stay with families.

28. What does the underlined word “appealing” in paragraph 3 probably mean?

- A. Interesting.
- B. Tiring.
- C. Traditional.
- D. Scary.

29. What should teenagers do when faced with cyberbullying?
- A. Believe it's not a big deal. B. Keep the problem a secret.
- C. Never surf the Internet again. D. Tell a trusted adult what happened.
30. Which statement would the author most probably agree with?
- A. Teenagers are too shy to share their opinions online.
- B. All the teenagers have learned the rules of being safe online.
- C. Teenagers should be responsible for their words and actions online.
- D. It's wise to keep silent when you find your friend is being bullied online.

【解析】

【导语】本文主要讲述了伊莎不顾妈妈的劝告，决定去找邻居Georgia玩，她们俩走着走着迷路了，这时又下起了大雨，伊莎赶紧跑回家，不想让妈妈发现她偷溜出去，没想到妈妈在客厅耐心地等着她，并让她赶紧换下湿的衣服，以免感冒。

【1 题详解】

句意：她的客厅太热太无聊了，她一秒钟也不能多待。

relaxing放松的；boring无聊的；bright明亮的。根据“she couldn't bear to stay there one minute second.”可知，伊莎感觉太无聊了，所以一秒钟也不能待，故选B。

【2 题详解】

句意：她突然站起来，决定到外面呼吸点新鲜空气。

stood站立；gave给；stayed待。根据“decided that she had to go outside for some fresh air”可知，她站起来准备出去呼吸新鲜空气，故选 A。

【3 题详解】

句意：也许她的邻居 Georgia 会想和她一起玩。

play玩；dance跳舞；read阅读。根据“play with Georgia”可知，想跟她一起玩，故选 A。

【4 题详解】

句意：虽然现在看起来很好，但一会儿就要下雨了，我不想让你淋湿。

terrible糟糕的；nice美好的；dark黑暗的。even though引导让步状语从句，空处所在句子和后半句是相反的意思，结合“it's going to rain”可知，此处应是说现在天气看起来很好，故选 B。

【5 题详解】

句意：伊莎不顾母亲的警告，坚持自己的决定。

agreement同意；promise承诺；decision决定。根据“decided that she had to go outside for some fresh air”可知，坚持自己出去玩的决定，故选 C。

【6 题详解】

句意：她妈妈上楼去办公室工作了，所以伊莎有机会溜出家门，叫 Georgia message 信息；money 金钱；chance 机会。根据“Isha had the ... to sneak out of her house”可知，趁着妈妈工作，她才有机会偷偷溜出家门，故选 C。

【7 题详解】

句意：幸运的是她成功了。

failed失败；succeeded成功；refused拒绝。根据“Luckily”可知，她偷溜成功了，故选 B。

【8 题详解】

句意：女孩们在街上相遇，边走边聊着天。

when 当……时；if 如果；because 因为。根据“chatted happily... they walked”可知，边走边聊天，强调两个动作同时进行，故选 A。

【9 题详解】

句意：没过多久，伊莎怀疑他们是不是迷路了。

come out 出现；got lost 迷失；set off 出发。根据“they were in a small unknown park, and none of the buildings nearby looked familiar”可知，进入了一个不熟悉的环境，也就是走迷路了，故选 B。
