听下面一段对话，回答第 10 至第 12 题。

10. Which of the following appeals to the woman most?

- A. Shaolin kung fu. B. Wing Chun. C. Taichi.

11. What does the man appreciate about drunken boxing?

- A. Its health benefits. B. Its entertaining elements. C. Its graceful movements.

12. What do the speakers talk about in the end?

- A. Different forms of self-defense.
B. The new concept of Chinese philosophy.
C. The importance of Chinese martial arts.

【答案】10. C 11. B 12. C

【原文】W: Aaron, do you know anything about Chinese martial arts?

M: Absolutely! There's so much diversity in Chinese martial arts.

W: Yeah. I love Taichi best for its graceful movements and health benefits. How about you?

M: It's hard to pick just one. I love Shaolin kung fu. And I'm into Wing Chun. The focus on close-range combat and efficiency is impressive. Besides, drunken boxing is also attractive. The appeal lies in its uniquely entertaining combination of smooth, unpredictable movements and comedic elements.

W: I see you really like Chinese martial arts. So how do you view the importance of Chinese martial arts?

M: Well, apart from self-defense, they are deeply rooted in Chinese culture, promoting discipline and respect.

W: Yeah, and they also reflect Chinese philosophy. The yin-yang concept is evident in the balance between offense and defense.

- A. China Netcom.
- B. China Telecom.
- C. China Unicom.

20. Which company is the service provider of Dingtalk?

- A. Baidu.
- B. Huawei.
- C. Alibaba.

【答案】17. C 18. B 19. A 20. C

【原文】W: China's students will now study online because the virus has shut down schools. The government has launched a national cloud learning platform and started broadcasting primary school classes to ensure the country's 180 million students can still keep learning even though schools are closed. A new school term, scheduled to start earlier, has been put off uncertainly as part of measures to fight against the virus. China authorities have encouraged people to stay at home to help reduce its spread.

The approaches differ by age. Primary school classes are being broadcast on one of China's state TV channels. Junior and senior high school students in China can use an online learning platform which has 164 lessons covering 12 subjects for the first week, based on the national curriculum. Teachers will keep updating the platform with new materials as needed.

The government has asked China's three biggest telecommunications network operators—China Mobile, China Unicom and China Telecom-plus technology companies like Huawei, Baidu and Alibaba to back up the platform, ensuring up to 45 million students can use it at the same time. About 550, 000 teachers have become live anchors by using a live streaming service called DingTalk, built by Alibaba, to conduct online classes.
