can help people. He adds there isn't much reason to have machines do difficult work if people are not able to use and enjoy the results of their work. But also, Brewer hopes that people and machines will continue to work together. He says there is technology that tells city workers when street lights need to be repaired or when rubbish bins are full. That means the workers do not need to examine the lights or bins, as many now do. But he says when the technology tells when repairs are needed or bins must be emptied, humans still must provide the service.

Many people support technology and the changes it will bring. But many are also starting to think about its influence on humans and how to help people live in a world where machines do so much work.

41. 【答案】 Color and Mood

Last week, I read an article about color and mood, let me tell you something about it. There are many colors in our life. They can not only mean different things but also bring us different feelings. For example, people sometimes use pink to describe a person who is healthy. Color blue sometimes means that a person who is blue is very sad.

Of all the colors, I love white best. White is the color of snow and cloud. It represents of purity and calmness. It can make a beautiful picture with any other colors. It can often make me feel relaxed.

Everyone has his favorite color. However, no matter how colors change your mood, you should learn to control your mood and be a better person.
