Text 1

W: How do you feel about the final assessment this semester?

M: I'm a bit nervous. There's so much to cover and only so little time left to prepare.

W: I know what you mean. Just do your best and I'm sure you'll be okay.

Text 2

M: Maggie, you look pale, what's wrong?

W: I am running a temperature.

M: Why don't you go to see a doctor?

W: Yeah, I think I should. But I have to make a presentation to the board right now.

Text 3

W: Excuse me, I'd like to return this shirt.

M: Yes, madam, but what's wrong with it?

W: Well, though it's well designed, with eye-pleasing color, it doesn't fit me well.

Text 4

M: Hey, I think for the next student council activity we should organize a sports competition.

W: That sounds fun, but what about those who aren't into sports? Maybe we could also have a talent show or a cultural event.

M: Great idea! We could have a variety of activities to meet everyone's interests.

Text 5

M: Hey, have you read the latest issue of "Reader's Digest"? It's great for creative and unique viewpoints.

W: Thanks! I prefer "National Geographic" for more wide ranging topics. Maybe I'll check out "Reader's Digest" too.

Text 6

M: Hey sis, dad's birthday is coming up. What should we get him?

W: Hmm, maybe a nice watch or a personalized photo album?

M: I like the idea of a personalized photo album. We could include our family memories and make it really special.

W: That's a great idea! It would be a meaningful and thoughtful gift.

M: Let's also plan a family dinner to celebrate it.

W: Good idea, we can invite close family and friends to make it a memorable celebration.

Text 7

M: Hey Emily, have you had a chance to check out that new cafe downtown?

W: Oh, not yet. Is it any good?

M: Absolutely! It has this cozy corner with soft chairs—perfect for getting lost in a good book. The atmosphere is fantastic, but what attracts me most is the coffee itself.

W: Really? I'm always on the lookout for a good coffee spot and a quiet place to read. What else do it have?

M: Well, besides the coffee, it offers a variety of snacks. The blueberry muffin is really amazing.

W: Yum! I'm sold. Let's check it out this weekend.

M: Great idea! We can grab a coffee, enjoy some blueberry muffin, and catch up.

Text 8

W: Hi Michael, welcome to “Celebrity Talk”. Can you introduce yourself to our audience?

M: Of course, my name is Michael and I am a professional basketball player.

W: Great to have you here, Michael. What inspired you to become a professional basketball player?

M: Well, I've been playing basketball since I was a kid. I fell in love with the game and always dreamed of playing at the highest level.

W: That's wonderful. Being a professional athlete requires a lot of hard work and devotion. What do you think is the most challenging aspect of being a professional basketball player?

M: I think one of the biggest challenges is the physical and mental demands of the game. The constant training, travel, and the pressure to perform at a high level can be overwhelming at times.

W: I can imagine. What advice would you give to young aspiring athletes who want to pursue a career in basketball?

M: I would tell them to stay focused, work hard, and never give up on their dreams. Surround yourself with good advisors and teammates, and always be willing to learn and improve.

W: Thank you for your insights, Michael. I appreciate your time and wish you the best of luck in your future games.

M: Thank you, it's been a pleasure speaking with you.

Text 9

M: I can't believe this. I have been on the phone with my bank all day and they still haven't fixed my problem.

W: Is it a credit card problem?

M: Yes. My credit card information was stolen. When I got my bill in the mail, I saw there were many unfamiliar purchases on it.

W: That's terrible. Did they take a lot of money?

M: Yes, and I am very upset because the bank is not helping me quickly.

W: Doesn't the bank's manager decide to give your money back?

M: No. I just have to prove that these purchases were not made by me. I think the person who stole my information got it from the Internet. I didn't download anything recently. I just bought a collection of movies. I won't be doing that again unless the website is sure to be safe. It's honestly my fault for being careless.

W: You can never be too careful.

Now we have a program for those who love acting. This program gives young actors the experience of developing complex characters and performing a full-length production while receiving top-level training. Each actor will receive a role and will be given time to shine on the stage at the end of the week. Children aged between 13 and 18 can take part in the program.

The play is written by Lisa Nanni-Messegee. Todd Messegee will be the director. On the first Monday we meet, actors act for some time to find a suitable role in the play. By the end of the day, they begin developing characters and learning about the play. This continues through mid-week, along with focus on specialty skills that may be needed in the production. On these days, they'll receive some training on acting. By Thursday, the actors are running the show off-book and memorizing their material. By Friday, the whole group is performing on stage, in a recorded performance. A digital copy of the performance will be shared with actors after the program is complete. This is a very exciting challenge for any actor! It'll begin on July 26th and end on 30th. Practicing time is from 9 : 00 a . m. to 4 : 00 p . m. every day. Only ten will be admitted. If you're interested, contact us early. Due to safety restrictions, space is extremely limited in each age group. Registering early is recommended.

Travelling seemed like falsehood to me.I grew tired of backpackers expressing too much praise about how petting a baby elephant in Thailand “transformed” them. Globe-traveling to me held no more promise than finding a few bills in the pocket of an old coat. I needed something deeper than an Eat, Play, Love moment.

One day, Vasilis, my Greek best friend, reminded me of our decade-old promise: after our final exams, I would visit his hometown in Athens. Maybe, it was time to make good on that promise.

I finally boarded the plane. Vasilis picked me up at the airport. I smiled, thinking how improbable this moment seemed all those years ago.

The decade-long wait proved to be well worth it. Every step through the ancient streets revealed new wonders. However, none of them truly mattered. What would forever alter my perception of travel was a chance encounter with a local.

Vasilis and I were wandering Athens when a special sound caught our attention—a rhythmic clinking disturbing the quietness of the residential street. Curiously, we followed the sound to a humble workshop. Inside, a welder(焊工) gave no mind to our presence behind him. He wore no flashy protective suit—this was just another day for him, another dance with fire and metal that had become second nature. Under the sunshade, his orange cat rested in the comforting warmth...

As the man continued welding, I felt a bit of envy. I envied his peace and contentment. I admired the simplicity he embodied. I imagined the welder happy, finding fulfillment in his craft(手艺) and returning to his loving family... The moment moved me to tears. Leaving the workshop, rain blending with tears, I realized how easily life's poetry could pass unnoticed.

Home again in Montreal, I stop simply pursuing better things, better experiences and better people that are never grasped. I realize the real journey is inward—to appreciate life's ordinary magic. That sure beats petting any baby elephant. I may not have returned home “transformed,” but I'll always think of the welder and his cat.

24. Which aspect of travelling makes the author feel uneasy? _____

- A. Shortage of adequate funds.
- B. Discomfort in dietary habits.
- C. Overstatement of travel's effects.
- D. Danger of petting baby animals.

解析: C 推理判断题。根据第一段中的 “Travelling seemed like falsehood to me. I grew tired of backpackers expressing too much praise about how petting a baby elephant in Thailand

‘transformed’ them.(对我来说，旅行似乎是骗人的。我已经厌倦了背包客们对在泰国抚摸小象如何‘改变’了他们的赞不绝口。)”可知，旅行影响的过度陈述让作者感到不安，觉得是骗人的。故选 C。

25.What drove the author to go to Athens? _____

- A. Meeting a commitment.
- B. Exploring a unique landscape.
- C. Receiving further education.
- D. Escaping from the current life.

解析: A 细节理解题。根据第二段中的“ One day, Vasilis, my Greek best friend, reminded me of our decade-old promise: after our final exams, I would visit his hometown in Athens.Maybe, it was time to make good on that promise.(有一天，我最好的希腊朋友瓦西里斯让我想起了我们十年前的约定：期末考试结束后，我要去他的家乡雅典。也许，是时候兑现这个承诺了。)”可知，为了兑现履行承诺，作者去了雅典。故选 A。

26.What does the underlined word “poetry” in paragraph 6 probably refer to? _____

- A. Poems written by masters.
- B. Peace and simplicity.
- C. Spirit of craftsmanship.
- D. Special sound in the street.

27.Which of the following can be a suitable title for the text? _____

- A. Friendship Lasts Forever
- B. Travelling Shapes a Better Self

- D. The Ordinary Makes Extraordinary

解析:

D 主旨大意题。通读全文，尤其是最后一段可知，文章通过作者的旅行经历，特别是雅典之行中与当地焊工的邂逅，让作者领悟到了平凡生活中的不平凡之美，改变了对旅行意义的看法。D 项(平凡造就非凡)，它贴切地反映了作者的心路历程和文章的核心思想。故选 D。

This week, Google researchers published a paper describing results from an AI tool built to create music. The tool, called MusicLM, is not the first AI music tool to be launched. But the examples Google provided demonstrate musical creative ability based on a limited set of descriptive words.

Several different music examples produced by MusicLM were published online. Some of the generated music came from just one- or two-word descriptions, such as “jazz”, “rock” or “techno(高科技舞曲)”. The tool also created other examples from more detailed descriptions containing whole sentences.

In one example, Google researchers included these instructions to MusicLM, “It is a soundtrack of a game. It is fast-paced and upbeat, with a catchy electric guitar riff(反复乐节). The music is repetitive and easy to remember, but with unexpected sounds...” In the resulting recording, the music seemed to keep very close to the description. The team said the more detailed the description was, the better the system could attempt to produce it.

The MusicLM model operates similarly to the machine-learning systems used by ChatGPT. ChatGPT and MusicLM both require powerful computers to operate complex machine-learning models. The San Francisco-based company OpenAI launched ChatGPT late last year. ChatGPT has recently received a lot of attention because of its ability to generate complex writings and other content from just a simple description in natural languages. Such tools can produce human-like results because they are trained on huge amounts of data. Many different materials are fed into the systems to permit them to learn complex skills to create realistic works.

However, the MusicLM researchers said there were some risks linked to the new tool. One of the biggest issues the researchers identified was biases(偏好) present in the training data. A bias might be including too much of one side and not enough of the other. The researchers said this raised a question about appropriateness for music generation for cultures underrepresented in the training data.

语篇解读 本文是一篇说明文。主要介绍了谷歌研发了一种叫做 MusicLM 的 AI 智能工具，这种 AI 工具可以根据书面描述和其他输入创建音乐。
