Hi Dan!

Hong Kong is a great city! There is so much to see and do here. We went to a great place called Ocean Park. I saw lots of tropical fish and some sharks. I also went on a roller-coaster and a cable car.

I loved the roller-coaster and I went on it four times! Mum and Dad thought I was lost, but then they saw me at the top of the roller-coaster.

Tomorrow will be a shopping day, the worst part of the holiday!

See you soon!

Your friend,

Robert

(22-23 八年级上·上海黄浦·期中)The water tap was leaking (漏水) again, and the noise was driving Cassie crazy.

Cassie looked at her watch. It was nearly nine o'clock. She climbed out of bed and stood on a chair by the shelf. Her mother's Mr. Fix-It Book was on the top shelf. She found the page she was looking for and then began to read carefully.

Next, Cassie opened a box in the kitchen and picked out the tools she needed—a hammer, a wrench (扳手), and several small things. It was not easy for her to repair the tap, and she tried several times. Finally, the water tap was in pieces. One by one, she carefully laid them out on the table. That way she would know how they went back.

Cassie worked late into the night. At one point, she thought she was done. Oops! A small piece that she had forgotten still lay on the table. Slowly Cassie took the water tap apart (分开) one more time. This time she made sure everything was in place. She turned the water tap on and then off. One... two... three... She waited a full minute. There was no leak! Cassie smiled and put the tools back into the box. Then she went to bed and fell asleep.

The next morning, Dad was in the kitchen when Cassie got up.

“Notice anything, Dad?” she asked.

He looked around and listened. “Hmm, something’s missing... I can’t find out what it is... Wait, it’s too quiet in here!”

“That’s right,” Cassie said. “Something is missing. I fixed the water tap. It doesn’t leak any more.”

“That’s my girl,” Dad said. “It’s a good thing you are really like your mother.”

(20-21 八年级上·上海·期中) Dave Hopper couldn't believe when his daughter was turned away(拒绝进入) for the second time, along with 50 other students, who didn't meet the unbelievably strict dress rules at an English school.

The father was angry when his daughter was kicked out the day before for not wearing a sports suit, then again when her shoes weren't black enough. Hopper found it strange because the previous day she was told the shoes were acceptable.

"They're not plain, black, leather shoes. They've got color on them," said the headmaster, Matthew Tate. However, Hopper wasn't going to agree.

"Look at them. They are perfectly black. Tell me what's wrong with those?" The father said. He then asked the headmaster if he would have to buy another pair of shoes, the headmaster told him that he must.

"Turning away kids who have turned up in trainers(运动鞋), fair enough, they are in the wrong, but my daughter is dressed how she should be," Hopper said.

Hopper plans to transfer her to a new school where she isn't constantly turned away because of the clothes. "If we don't remove her from the school, she will be turned away again."

1. Why was Dave Hopper's daughter turned away by the school?

A. Because she didn't wear shoes.

B. Because she didn't finish her homework.
