Daniel, Sandy and Simon are in the lab.

Simon: Let's do an experiment. I fill a jar(罐子) with water. I cover the top with a piece of cardboard(纸板) and hold it there. Then I turn the jar upside down and take my hand off the cardboard. Can you guess what will happen?

Daniel: I think the floor will get wet. We should do this experiment outside, Simon.

Sandy: I think the cardboard will hold the water.

Daniel: I don't think so.

Sandy: You think the water will pour out, Daniel. I think the water will stay in the jar. Let's do the experiment to test whose opinion is correct.

Simon: Good idea, Sandy. That is called the scientific method.

Sandy: I am so sure of my opinion that Simon can do the experiment over your head and I know you won't get wet.

Daniel: Well, let's try.

Simon: Are you ready, Daniel?

Daniel: No! Wait! (He puts on a raincoat and sits down.) Now I think I'm ready.

Sandy: Simon, take your hand off the cardboard.

Daniel: No!

(Daniel closes his eyes tightly(紧紧地), and Simon takes his hand off the cardboard. The water stays in the jar.)

Sandy: See, Daniel!

Daniel: How is that possible?

Simon: The force(力) of the air keeps the water in the jar. It is strong enough to hold the water.

Daniel: Wow!

Simon: So what have we discovered?

Sandy: We have discovered the air pressure(压力) helps the cardboard hold the water in the jar.

Simon: Right. What do you conclude, Daniel?

Daniel: I conclude that air is stronger than I thought.

Ancient art doesn't have to be boring. Technology in the 21st century can help to bring it to life by combining(融合) the best of the old and the new.

Along the River During the Qingming Festival

Walking into the China Pavilion at Expo 2010 in Shanghai, people were amazed by seeing a huge digital(数码的) painting. Scientists digitized(数码化) the famous painting Along the River During the Qingming Festival by Chinese artist Zhang Zeduan.

The original(原先的) painting shows life during the Northern Song period and it includes many details of ancient Chinese customs, lifestyles and technology.

_____ Farmers work in the fields, sailors move around their boats and people eat and do business in restaurants. Parts of the background are also animated(做成动画). You can see the wind blowing through the trees and across the water. These animations perfectly combine modern technology and ancient art.

Digital technology allows today's artists to express their ideas in ways that ancient artists would not believe possible. Techniques such as animation and 3D digital projection(投影) make art come alive.

Dunhuang Cave Paintings

Dunhuang Caves, which are protected ancient treasures in the Gobi desert in Northwest China, are filled with paintings and sculptures with lasting value. This artwork was created over a period of around 1,000 years.

The good news is for art lovers who cannot travel and for the caves. Scientists have created a 360-degree, 3D digital projection of the caves, which makes the artwork come alive. There is also a function(功

能) that lets viewers zoom in and enjoy the paintings and sculptures in greater detail.

Digitising ancient art allows us to explore the ancient practices. It also makes the whole world understand the art while protecting the original artworks for the future.

39. (2分) From the passage, we can know that _____.

- A. both of the two artworks use 3D digital projection
- B. ancient art allows people to explore the modern technology
- C. people can't go to Dunhuang to enjoy paintings and sculptures now
- D. the digital painting, Along the River During the Qingming Festival was created by Zhang Zeduan

40. (2分)

- A. In the digital painting, a lot of these details are animated.
- B. In the digital painting, a lot of these scenes are well known.
- C. In the digital painting, more details of the art can be enjoyed.
- D. In the digital painting, many different styles of art can be seen.

41. (2分)

- A. 使(镜头)抬高
- B. 使(镜头)拉近
- C. 使(镜头)俯视
- D. 使(镜头)远离

42. (2分) From the passage, we can infer(推断) that _____.

- A. studying ancient art as much as possible is very necessary
- B. good art must combine modern technology and ancient art
- C. protecting the ancient artworks is more important than developing technology
- D. more valuable ancient artworks will be protected better with technology in the future

43. (2分) Which of the following can be the best title of the passage?

- A. Enjoying Ancient Art
- B. Protecting Modern Technology
- C. Digitising Ancient Art
- D. Understanding Modern Technology

五、任务型阅读(共10小题;每小题1分,满分10分)(共10题;共10分)

(10分) 阅读下面的短文,并根据所读内容在文章后表格中的空格里填入一个最恰当的单词,每个空格只填一个单词。

fingerprints, no two people share the same handwriting. Your handwriting can actually say a lot about what kind of person you are. Try writing out a sentence: The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog. Then see what your handwriting says about you.

Did you know that the size of your handwriting can represent the level of your self-respect and self-awareness()? Large handwriting may show that you're easy to get along with and you want to be noticed by others. On the other hand, small handwriting may mean that you're shy and careful, and always pay attention to details. Medium-sized handwriting shows that you can get used to a new environment easily.

Spacing between words

Do you leave a large space between your words when you write? According to a study, the distance between two words can show how close or how far you feel towards others. If you write with wide spacing between your words, it may mean that you enjoy your freedom. On the other hand, people leaving narrow spacing between words may like staying with others.

Slant(傾斜) of the words

Did you know that the slant in your handwriting can tell how you treat people and things around you? Slanting to the right means you welcome or accept new ideas easily. And you consider your friends and family are more important than anything else. While slanting to the left may show that you think deeply about your own thoughts, feelings or behaviors. And you like to work behind the scenes better. If you write without slanting at all, you may be practical.

Although the handwriting analyses(分析) are not always true, we can read them for fun. What matters most is you should write carefully.
