

2010-2023 历年江苏省海安紫石中学九年级 月考英语试卷（带解析）

第 1 卷

一. 参考题库(共 25 题)

1.If you go to a fast food restaurant, you will probably see a lot of teenagers. Today, many teenagers are overweight, and some of this is because of their bad eating habits. Most teenagers love food with a lot of fat, oil, salt and sugar. People often call this kind of food “junk food”.

But bad eating habits go beyond fast food. We find many teenagers eat unhealthily. Some don't have breakfast before they go to school. During the day, some don't have a proper meal for lunch. In a recent survey conducted among 2,000 students at one school, scientists found that over two-thirds of the students didn't follow a healthy diet. They didn't like vegetables, and many of them didn't like to eat fruits. They preferred to eat food with a lot of salt, sugar or fat.

Parents today also worry about their children's diet. Some doctors give the following advice:

Teenagers shouldn't eat too much junk food.

Teenagers shouldn't eat food with too much salt. Salt can cause high blood pressure in the future.

Teenagers should eat food with less fat, oil and sugar.

Teenagers need to eat some fruits and vegetables every day. Fruits and vegetables are rich in vitamins and have little fat.

Teenagers need to drink more milk. Milk will help their bones grow.

Teenagers need to eat breakfast every day. This is good for their body and mind.

【小题 1】 According to the passage, which of the following is NOT true?

- A. Junk food has much fat, oil, salt and sugar.

4.阅读与回答问题(本题共 5 小题 ; 每小题 2 分, 满分 10 分)

请认真阅读下面短文, 并根据短文内容回答问题。

One afternoon, many years ago, I went to pick up my mother from work. I got there a little early so I stopped the car by the roadside and waited for her.

As I looked out of the car window, there was a small park where I saw a little boy, around two years old, running freely on the grass as his mother watched from a short distance. The boy had a big smile on his face as if he had just been set free from some sort of prison(监狱). The boy would then fall to the grass, get up and without looking back at his mother, still with a smile on his face.

At that moment, I thought to myself, "Why can't most adults this way?" Most adults, when they fall down, they would be so embarrassed that they would not try again if someone saw them fall. They would end up too afraid to try again for fear of failure. Kids, when they fall down, they don't consider their falling down as failure, instead, they treat it as a learning experience. They try and try again until they succeed. While I was touched by the boy's persistence, I was also touched by the manner in which he did. I learned a lot from that and have successfully brought that lesson with me in my many pursuits (追求) in life.

【小题 1】 What did the boy's mother do when the boy was running freely on the grass?

【小题 2】 How would adults feel when someone saw them fall?

【小题 3】 What do kids often treat their falling down as?

【小题 4】 What was the writer deeply impressed by?

9. 完形填空(本题共 15 小题 ; 每小题 1 分, 满分 15 分)

On my first day of the sixth grade, I noticed one little girl called Amy on the school bus. "Don't ___ her," Lauren said, who sat beside me, "or they will make fun of you." Amy had many physical differences—lots of reasons for other kids to make fun of her. Her eyes weren't straight. Her glasses were an inch thick. And she had really ugly teeth. Every day ___ we drove to and from school, kids would shout insults (侮辱) at Amy. "God, what a(n) ___ face! Stop looking at me!" "Mr. Rolland (the driver)! Amy took off her hat. Make her put it back on!" For a while I shouted my share of insults, just so I'd fit in (合群). ___, I didn't want them to treat me the same way they treated Amy. But while I was insulting her, my heart ___ for the girl. I could see that the insults were making her look uglier, because she was so ashamed and alone. Then I wanted to ___ her. I just didn't know how to stop my schoolmates ___ the night of our class roller-skating party. Our whole class was there, including Amy. Amy didn't know how to skate, but I could see how much she wanted to ___ like the rest of us. So I skated over to her and took her by the hand. We began the journey together around the skating rink (溜冰场). She just smiled, and sometimes she would laugh in ____ . On the school bus the next morning there was much news about Amy and me ___ together, ___ nobody insulted her or me. And they didn't do that for the rest of the year. After graduation, I never ___ Amy again. However, I never forget her and I've always ___ if I changed her life for the better. But I know for sure she changed my ___. 12. Come And Join Us!

We warmly welcome you to the Shine Sports Centre!

All the young people in this city can become members of the Shine Sports Centre and each member should pay $10 every year. To be a member of us and get your membership card (会员卡), you need to come to us between 2 pm and 6 pm, Monday to Thursday. I have to tell you that we don't accept new members on Friday.

Now, there are three things that you must remember to bring with you when you come for a membership card. They are your ID card, a recent passport-sized photo of yourself and the money. We can't give you the card unless you bring all the three.

Once you have got your membership card, you need to bring it with you whenever you come to book or use any facility (设备) in Shine Sports Centre. Booking over the phone is not allowed, so you have to come here with your card when you want to book. There is one more thing I have to tell you. Our opening hours is from 9 am to 10 pm on weekdays and from 10 am to 6 pm on weekends. We hope that every member can have a great time in the Shine Sports Centre.

【小题 1】 You can use the facilities in the Shine Sports Centre at_____.

- A. 9 am on Sunday
- B. 5 pm on Wednesday
- C. 7 am on Thursday
- D. 9 am on Saturday

13.A young man went to the local expert (专家) on gems and said he wanted to become a gemologist (珠宝家). The expertturnedhimdownbecause he was afraid that the youth would not have the patience to learn. The young man asked for a chance. Finally, the expert told the youth, "Be here tomorrow."

The next morning the expert put a jade (玉) stone in the youth's hand and told him to hold it. The expert then went about his work, cutting, weighing and setting gems. The boy sat quietly and waited.

The following morning the expert again put the jade stone in the youth's hand and told him to hold it. On the third, fourth and fifth days, the expert asked the young man to do the same thing. On the sixth day, the youth held the jade stone but he could no longer stand(忍受) the silence. "Master, when am I going to learn something?" he asked.

"You will learn." the expert said and went about his business.

Several more days went by and the youth almost lost his patience. But one morning as the master put the stone in the youth's hand, the young man said without looking at his hand, "This is not the same jade stone!"

"You have begun to learn." said the master.

Practice makes perfect. The experience we learned from practice teaches us and develops our abilities. Experience is the best teacher. Even the most successful person had no absolute confidence once. It is experience that gives people confidence. The truth is: if you do the work and gain the experience, you'll have more confidence because you'll actually know what you're doing.

On the way I decided to stop and get a cheese from the little shop just down the road. I have never been there before but I was hungry and it would be 5 hours before I got off work.

The owner of the store took my order. He asked me what I wanted and I told him I heard he made a great cheese. He seemed pleased to hear that.

As I was sitting in the small space there was an elderly man finishing his breakfast. He paid the waitress, received his change and made a small joke. As he returned to get up, but it was quite difficult for this man, he looked over at me. I gave a small smile.

He looked again in my direction for a moment and said to me, "Has anyone told you, you have the most beautiful blue eyes?"
